

Fran Sillau

Artist Biography

Fran began acting at the age of four, by the age of twelve he was performing in professional theater productions. Fran currently works for The Omaha Theater Company as an actor and teacher.

Some of Fran's other roles have included, Randolph Macafee in Bye Bye Birdie, Conel Pickering in My Fair Lady, Senex in A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum and Tony in You Can't Take it With You.

Currently, Fran is writing a two person play, The Brass Ring a play that explores what it means to grow up with a disability. Fran hopes to tour this play to venues in the coming years. Fran's professional activities can be found at www. Fransillau.com